INTRODUCTION

Purpose

#7.50
Dorinda
The purpose of this pamphlet is to set forth certain information accumulated by the author which, as time goes on, would become increasingly hard for others to obtain. The principal content is a list of the descendants of Dr. John Harrington of Brookfield, Vermont, with items of statistical and biographical data relating to many of them. But by way of introduction, the pamphlet first presents the Harrington lineage descending from Robert of Watertown to Dr. John of Brookfield. Robert of Watertown was the original Harrington immigrant who came from England in 1634, and John was one of his great-great-grandsons.

There are various published genealogies and New England local histories which show the line from Robert down to John as a resident of Fitzwilliam, New Hampshire. Family records in the possession of the author, consisting of the birth date of Dr. John of Brookfield, his brother's name and place of residence, establish his identity with that of John of Fitzwilliam. Further verification is available in the published "Ancestry of Colonel John Harrington Stevens" by Mary Lovering Holman, F.A.S.G.

Scope of the Descendant Record

The intention has been to include mention of all descendants, regardless of surnames, through four generations below Dr. John Harrington; and also those in the fifth and sixth generations who were, or whose mothers were, born with the surname Harrington. There are some omissions which occur because the requisite information was lacking.

Tabulation of Descendants

A single chart showing all descendants through six generations would be too large and cumbersome for inclusion herein. As a substitute there are, on following pages, a series of tabulations each of which covers only the children, or children and grandchildren, of a particular individual. In these tabulations there is given for each descendant, a reference number, and to the extent known to the author, the following information:

Year of birth and year of death
Name of spouse, or of each spouse if more than one
Year of birth and year of death for spouse.

Given names appear without the surname if the surname is Harrington. Otherwise the full name is spelled out. An asterisk preceding the reference number indicates that further information concerning the individual may be found in the biographical section.

Biographical Sketches

Brief biographical sketches have been included for those individuals, in the first four generations only, concerning whom the author could obtain sufficient information.

Numbering System

To facilitate tracing any lineage in either direction, and as a cross reference between tabulations and biographical sketches, reference numbers have been assigned. A definite number is reserved or available for each descendant of Dr. John Harrington; but where it seems that no useful purpose would be served by showing them, they have usually been omitted from the text. They are not shown for any sixth generation descendants.

Single digit numbers, as 1, 2, 6, etc. are assigned to the first generation below Dr. John Harrington, i.e. to his own children. They show the order of birth in his family; any gaps which occur are for offspring who did not survive childhood. Two-digit numbers are assigned to second generation descendants; three-digit numbers are for third generation descendants; etc. Any child's number is obtained by taking his parent's number and adding one digit to the right, this digit being such as to indicate the order of birth in that family. A parent's number can therefore be found from that of any one of his children by merely discarding the right hand digit of the child's number.

In a few instances in which there were 10 or 11 children in one family, it was necessary to substitute special symbols for the two-digit numerals "10" and "11". The letters "X" and "Y" were used for this purpose.

The names of descendants appearing as the subjects of sketches in the Biographical Section are arranged in the order of their respective reference numbers. This puts all of the first generation together, then all of the second generation, etc.

Acknowledgements

Much of the statistical and other data contained herein came through the cooperation of members of the family who answered questions and questionnaires for the author. It is hoped that they will find in this resulting pamphlet enough of value to repay them for their trouble.

Very helpful were two previously written manuscripts which contained much Harrington and other related genealogy. They were made available respectively by Hattie Nash Adamson and Helen Harrington Compton.

"Ancestry of Col. John Harrington Stevens", Volume I, by Mary Lovering Holman, was the source of some of the information shown herein relating to the descendants of Deborah Harrington Stevens. Mrs. Holman's daughter, Winifred Lovering Holman, who finished this book after her mother's death, co-operated in making it available.

Other published genealogies have contributed details relating to various individuals covered herein; in general these sources are mentioned in the respective biographical sketches.

With respect to the career of Dr. John Harrington himself, and his lineage from the original American immigrant, the following sources have been utilized:

This bible was printed at Edinburgh in 1794; has been handed down through four generations and is now in the possession of the author of this pamphlet.

A written memorandum by the author's grandfather Harrington showing that Dr. John Harrington of Brookfield had a brother Joshua living in the vicinity of Keene, N.H. Keene was the nearest city with respect to the township of Fitzwilliam, and was particularly near to that part of Fitzwilliam (later incorporated as Troy) in which the Harrington family lived.

LINEAGE OF DR. JOHN HARRINGTON

(a Physician of Brookfield, Vt.)

DESCENDING FROM

ROBERT HARRINGTON OF WATERTOWN, MASSACHUSETTS

The Original American Immigrant.

ROBERT HARRINGTON was born in England in the year 1616; embarked at Ipswich, England on April 10, 1634, in the ship "Elizabeth". (American Ancestry ix-99). Was a property owner of Watertown in 1642-1644, owning a homestead given him by Thomas Hastings. Was admitted Freeman on May 27, 1663. Married, Oct. 1, 1649, Susanna George, b. 1632, d. July 6, 1694. Was a selectman most of the years between 1679 and 1700 inclusive. Died May 17, 1707 and is buried beside his wife in the Arlington St. cementery in Watertown. In his will dated January 1, 1704 he mentions his sons John, Daniel, Benjamin, Samuel, Thomas, Edward (to whom he gave his homestead) and his daughters Susanna Beers, Mary Bemis and Sarah Winship. At the time of his death he owned $642\frac{1}{2}$ acres of land, appraised at 717 pounds.

(See Bond's History of Watertown and Hudson's History of Lexington).

Children

Edward	b. 1669
Sarah	b. 1671; d. 1710; m. Joseph Winship
David	b. 1673; d. 1675

Note: Many present day Harringtons wonder about their relationship to the Harringtons who fought in the Battle of Lexington. It may therefore be appropriate to state here that John, second child in the above list, was the great-grandfather of Jonathan who was killed on the Common in front of his own house, and of Caleb who was killed at the meeting house. Daniel, fifth child above, was the great-grandfather of Jonathan the fifer. Thomas, ninth in the list above, was the great-grandfather of Dr. John of Brookfield. Thus Dr. John was a third cousin of the Harringtons named above who fought at Lexington.

LABORATORY REPORT

EXPERIMENT 1: THE DETERMINATION OF THE MOLE FRACTION OF A BINARY MIXTURE

DATE: _____

The purpose of this experiment is to determine the mole fraction of a binary mixture of two liquids. The experiment is performed by measuring the vapor pressure of the mixture at different compositions and comparing the results with the ideal gas law. The data is then plotted on a graph of vapor pressure versus mole fraction, and the mole fraction of the mixture is determined from the slope of the line.

The following table shows the data obtained from the experiment:

Mole Fraction of Component 1	Vapor Pressure (mm Hg)
0.0	10.0
0.1	11.5
0.2	13.0
0.3	14.5
0.4	16.0
0.5	17.5
0.6	19.0
0.7	20.5
0.8	22.0
0.9	23.5
1.0	25.0

The data shows that the vapor pressure of the mixture increases as the mole fraction of component 1 increases. This is expected for an ideal mixture, where the vapor pressure of the mixture is the sum of the vapor pressures of the individual components. The mole fraction of component 1 is determined to be 0.5, which is the composition at which the vapor pressure of the mixture is 17.5 mm Hg.

About 1780 Mr. Harrington bought the Tiffany mill privilege and the saw and grist mills of Thomas Tolman. The saw mill was soon shut down, but the grist mill was owned and operated by himself, his son Joshua and his grandsons Joshua and Elijah until 1840, when it was bought by Charles Coolidge. Later it became the Troy Blanket Factory.

Joshua Harrington's estate was settled in Keene, N.H. in 1784. The administrator was his son Joshua. The Cheshire probate record shows that the estate was insolvent.

JOHN HARRINGTON, referred to in this pamphlet as "Dr. John", was the eldest child of Joshua and Betty (Bent) Harrington of Framingham, Mass. He was born September 2, 1752, the very day on which, by Act of Parliament, the Julian calendar ended so that the following day became September 14th under the Gregorian calendar. He moved with his parents from Framingham to Fitzwilliam, N.H. in 1774. In June 1777, he and his brother Joshua went in a company under Capt. John Mellin to reinforce the garrison at Ticonderoga. In this company were 24 men from Fitzwilliam and adjacent towns. They arrived too late and little or no actual service fell to their lot. In August, 1778, John and Joshua were with Capt. Jas. Lewis's company, in Col. Enoch Hale's regiment, for service in Rhode Island; time of service, 23 days.

John Harrington married, May 18, 1784, at Halifax, Vt. where he practiced medicine, DEBORAH WAKEFIELD. She was the daughter of William and Dorcas (Hayward) Wakefield and was born January 12, 1760. A few years thereafter, perhaps about 1787, they moved to Brookfield, Orange County, Vermont, where he is said to have been the first physician of the town. He died October 9, 1802, as a result of a fall from his horse the day before; he is buried in the East Brookfield cemetery beside four of his children who died in infancy or early childhood. As shown by the Probate records of Chelsea, county seat of Orange County, his estate was administered by Josia Biglow and Nathaniel Wheatley; it was reported insolvent. The widow received $163.14 as dower; all else was taken by creditors.

It is probable that Deborah (Wakefield) Harrington, surviving her husband, accompanied her children who went from Brookfield to Brompton or vicinity in Lower Canada soon after Dr. John's death. In 1817 she came with her three sons to Greene township, Trumbull County, Ohio, and remained there until her death on October 24, 1830. She is buried near her son William in the old cemetery at the south west corner of William's farm.

THE HISTORY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON

From the first settlement in 1630 to the present time
The city of Boston was founded in 1630 by a group of Puritan settlers who came from England. They established a colony on the eastern shore of Massachusetts Bay. The city grew rapidly and became one of the most important centers of commerce and industry in the New England region. It was the site of many significant events in American history, including the Boston Tea Party and the Battle of Boston. The city's population has increased steadily over the years, and it remains one of the largest and most diverse cities in the United States.

BIOGRAPHICAL SECTION

1. JOHN HARRINGTON, eldest child of Dr. John and Deborah (Wakefield) Harrington of Brookfield, Vt. was born Feb. 20, 1785 at Halifax, Vt. While very young he moved with his parents to Brookfield, Orange County, Vt. There his father died when John the son was 17 years old. A short time later, perhaps in 1804, John, probably with his mother, sister and youngest brother, moved to Brompton (or vicinity) near Sherbrooke in Lower Canada, Province of Quebec. To this area also went, perhaps previously, his maternal grandfather, William Wakefield. Records show that John and his brother William were members of the Masonic lodge at Ascot, a town near Brompton, in 1816. It was probably in Lower Canada that he married, about 1810, Rhode Kee. Three children were born to them while they resided in Canada.

In the early spring of 1817 John with his wife, children, mother and younger brothers William and Ziba, came to Greene township, Trumbull County, Ohio. The trip to Ohio was made on sleds, part of the way over the ice on Lake Erie. John and William were two of the six original settlers of Greene township, the others being Ephraim Rice, John Wakefield, Roswell Bartlett and Ichabod Merritt, all of whom came in the spring of 1817. After much consultation they selected Lots 17, 14 and 7, which they agreed to purchase and divide equally among them. Thus each came into possession of 160 acres of land, on which no trees had ever been cut.

For the next 40 years John and Rhoda lived in Greene and worked the farm. His diary records that he voted, and for whom he voted, in each presidential election from 1820 to 1856 inclusive. He served as a representative in the state legislature for the term 1847-1848, having been elected on the Whig ticket.

At age 67, in the summer of 1852, John went on a trip to Lower Canada and to Vermont to visit the places and surviving friends and relatives that he had known in his earlier life. His diary of this trip has been preserved.

In May, 1857, John and Rhoda left their home in Greene and went to Hutchinson, Minnesota, where their son Lewis was living. Two of their other sons were residents of the Minneapolis area at this time; and a nephew, John Harrington Stevens, was the first settler of that city. But John lived only about seven months after arrival at Hutchinson. He died there November 30, 1857.

RHODA KEE, wife of John, was the daughter of Stewart and Sarah (Paddock) Kee of Ware, Massachusetts. She was born August 8, 1790, youngest in a family of five children. Her brothers and sisters were:

Ephraim Kee b.1778; d.1855
Sarah Kee b.1781; d.1846; m. John Wakefield
Ebenezer Kee b.1784
Joanna Kee b.1787

Rhoda continued to live at Hutchinson after the death of her husband, and survived the attack on the town by the Sioux Indians; but she died on a boat in the Mississippi River, November 9, 1862, shortly after starting on a trip back to Ohio.

John and Rhoda had six sons and one daughter, all of whom lived to become adults and marry. In this pamphlet notes concerning them will be found under their respective reference numbers, which are 11 to 17 inclusive.

2. DEBORAH HARRINGTON STEVENS, second child of Dr. John and Deborah (Wakefield) Harrington of Brookfield, Vt., was born November 4, 1786, which may have been before the family moved from Halifax to Brookfield. Her father died during her 16th year. It was probably soon after this that she went with her mother and brothers John and Ziba to Brompton in Lower Canada. There she met Gardner Stevens whom she married in 1806 or thereabout. They made their home on a farm just east of Lennoxville, near the confluence of the Mossawippi and St. Francis rivers. She died November 16, 1865, having survived her husband by 20 years; and is buried in the Lennoxville cemetery not far from their home.

GARDNER STEVENS, husband of Deborah, was a son of Lemuel and Polly Stevens and was born April 24, 1782. It is said by Elvira Stevens Barney in her Stevens Genealogy that Lemuel's father Joseph Stevens was born in Petersham, Mass. and that Lemuel moved to Stukely, Canada, while his children were young. Stukely is about 30 miles from Lennoxville where apparently Gardner came and acquired the farm mentioned above. He died on July 3, 1845.

Deborah and Gardner had five sons and six daughters. One son died at the age of ten years. The other children all lived to become adults and with one exception, all married. The best known of these descendants was John H. Stevens, first settler of the city of Minneapolis. His reference number in this pamphlet is 26.

6. WILLIAM HARRINGTON, son of Dr. John and Deborah (Wakefield) Harrington, was born February 5, 1794 at Brookfield, Vt. His father died when he was eight years old; and the family being poor, he was bound out under the old New England apprentice system to Rev. Elijah Lyman, a graduate of Dartmouth College (1786) and for many years minister of the Congregational church at Brookfield. When about 18 years of age William "bought his time" and went to Brompton (or vicinity) in Lower Canada. Here he would be with or near his maternal Grandfather William Wakefield, his sister Deborah Harrington Stevens, and his mother and brothers. Records show that William and John were members of the Masonic lodge at Ascot, a town near Brompton, in 1816.

In the early months of 1817 William came with his mother and brothers to Greene township, Trumbull County, Ohio. The trip is said to have been made on sleds. William and John were two of the six original settlers of Greene township and each obtained possession of 160 acres of land on which no clearing had ever been made. William built a log house on the bank of Mosquito Creek, near the spot where the old cemetery now is. The old road which passed this house was abandoned some years later, and the new frame house which he build in 1849 was located on what is now the Niles-Ashtabula road, Ohio Route 46. It is still standing and used as a farm dwelling.

William's marriage to HELENA BASCOM on March 6, 1821, was the second marriage in the township. He and she were both active in the Congregational church, she being a superintendent of the Sunday school. He was for 13 years the president of a temperance society, and his frame house is said to have been the first in Greene to be raised without the serving of whiskey. He was justice of the peace for six years and held other township offices. He taught school three winters, but his principal occupation was farming. He died April 7, 1885, on his farm and is buried in the old cemetery at the south west corner of the farm.

HELENA BASCOM, wife of William, was the daughter of James and Helena (Wales) Bascom of Chester, Mass. The Bascom Genealogy by E. D. Harris, published in 1870, is the source of most of the following information. Helena was born December 15, 1801, at Chester; moved with her parents while still a baby to Decatur, N.Y. About 1819 the family moved to Johnston township, Trumbull County, Ohio; then a little later some of them moved again, to Greene township in that county. Helena had nine full brothers and sisters:

Born at Chester, Mass.:

Eleazer W. b. 1795; d. at age 7.
Wm. Ashley b. 1797; m. Altha Crane; d. 1868.
Ellery b. 1798; a minister; m. Elvira Bissell.
Joshua b. 1799; a physician; d. 1863.

Born at Decatur, N.Y.:

Edward b. 1803.
Charlotte b. 1805; m. Ziba Harrington, brother of William.
Samuel b. 1807; d. 1807.
Horatio b. 1808; m. Caroline Newell.
George b. 1809; m. (1) Eunice Dogge (2) Jane Thayer.

After the death of his first wife, James Bascom married again; this time a widow, Sarah Bushnell. Four children were born to them at Johnston, Ohio:

Sarah b. 1829; m. Allen Mallery of Russell, Mass.
Linus b. 1831; d. 1862 as result of wounds in Civil War.
John b. 1833; d. 1864 while in U.S. service.
Lyman b. 1836; d. at Johnston at an age of over 100.

Helena survived William by six years, continuing to live on the farm in the care of her son William Ashley. She died April 20, 1891.

William and Helena Harrington had five sons and one daughter. All but one of the children lived to become adults and be married. Their reference numbers in this pamphlet are 61 to 66 inclusive.

8. ZIBA HARRINGTON, youngest child of Dr. John and Deborah (Wakefield) Harrington, was born April 13, 1800, at Brookfield, Vermont. His father died when he was only $2\frac{1}{2}$ years old. A short time later, probably about 1804, the mother with her children John, Deborah and Ziba moved to Brompton (or vicinity) near Sherbrooke in Lower Canada. Several years later Ziba's brother William also came from Brookfield to Brompton.

In 1817 the family, except Deborah who had married and settled at Lennoxville, came to Greene township, Trumbull County, Ohio. The two older brothers each bought land which they settled upon. Ziba worked with them, helping to clear land on which no trees had ever before been cut. After becoming of age he acquired a farm of his own in Greene. On February 18, 1827, he married CHARLOTTE BASCOM, sister of Helena Bascom whom his brother William had married about six years earlier. Ten children were born to Ziba and Charlotte while they resided in Greene.

About the year 1852 Ziba and family left Greene and moved to the vicinity of Troy, Geauga County. For two years or more they owned a home at Hiram Rapids which is a village just south of Troy. Later they lived within Troy township. The wife Charlotte died in 1870 and about June, 1872, Ziba married CAROLINE SLITOR HOARD, widow of Chester Hoard, and went to live in her home which was a short distance north of Troy center, known as Welshfield. Because of his increasing infirmities and the frailty of his wife, Ziba at age of about 83 moved to the home of his youngest daughter Hattie and her husband James D. Godfrey in Chagrin Falls and was cared for by them during the remainder of his life. He died there January 10, 1895 and is buried in the Troy cemetery beside his wife Charlotte.

Ziba was of a very religious disposition and read his Bible daily; he could quote many complete chapters. He was an active temperance worker and pioneer in that cause. The obituary which appeared in a Chagrin Falls newspaper said of him "He was industrious, honest, generous and universally esteemed and respected by all with whom he became acquainted."

CHARLOTTE BASCOM, first wife of Ziba and mother of his children, was born October 20, 1805, at Decatur, Otsego County, N.Y.; a daughter of James and Helena (Wales) Bascom who came from Chester, Mass. Further details with respect to her parents, brothers and sisters are included in the accompanying sketch for her sister Helena, wife of Ziba's brother William. She died November 16, 1870 and is buried in the Troy cemetery.

Of the ten children born to Ziba and Charlotte, nine lived to become adults and seven of them married. Their reference numbers in this pamphlet are 81 to 8X, inclusive.

11. EZRA HARRINGTON, eldest child of John and Rhoda (Kee) Harrington, was born in August, 1811, at or near Brompton in Lower Canada. He came with his parents and two younger brothers to Greene township, Trumbull County, Ohio, in 1817. There he married JULIA HOAGLAND, daughter of Richard and Amy (Stout) Hoagland. He was a farmer. He died April 4, 1860 and is interred in the old south cemetery in Greene. He had no children.

12. WILLIAM BRADFORD HARRINGTON, second child of John and Rhoda (Kee) Harrington, was born July 11, 1813 at or near Brompton. He came with his parents to Ohio in 1817. In 1836 he married SYBILLA CRANE, daughter of Robert and Sybilla (Hill) Crane. Two children, Jane and Henry, were born to them in Greene. In September 1839 the family of four left Greene to find a new home in the west. But within a month little Jane had died, and not long afterward Henry died. Another son, whom they named William Henry, was born in Iowa; but only a half month later, on August 15, 1940, Sybilla died. In May of 1941 the father with his 10 month old baby son arrived back at Greene.

On March 9, 1943, William B. remarried, taking as his second wife SARAH COWLES GILSON, widow of Pembroke Gilson. She was the daughter of Elliot and Sarah S. (Phelps) Cowles. (See "The Genealogy of the Cowles Family in America" Vol.2, by C. D. Cowles.) About nine years after this, two children having been born to them, they left Ohio permanently and settled in Minnesota, on the shore of Lake Minnetonka. Later the family moved to Hutchinson, Minn. where a brother, Lewis Harrington, lived. William B. died February 7, 1869 and his widow Sarah died at Minneapolis November 18, 1898. Both are buried in the cemetery at Hutchinson.

William B. had seven children, and those who survived childhood are listed herein under reference numbers 123 to 127 inclusive.

13. JOHN STEVENS HARRINGTON, third child of John and Rhoda (Kee) Harrington, was born August 11, 1815, at or near Brompton; P.Q. He came with his parents and two older brothers to Greene township, Trumbull County, Ohio, in 1817. On December 25, 1841, he married MINERVA HOAGLAND, a daughter of Richard and Amy (Stout) Hoagland. In May of 1854 "Steve", as he was called, and Minerva with five children who had been born in Ohio, left Greene for Minnesota. They settled on a farm on the shore of Lake Minnetonka at Wayzata. This later became a resort area extensively patronized by residents of Minneapolis and St. Paul. Eventually J. S. was able to sell off a considerable part of his land at a profit, and in 1890 had only 13 acres left. On this he raised garden produce for sale to people in nearby cottages. The site of his original farm is now (1961) a high class residential area known as "Harrington Farms Allotment".

Minerva Harrington died November 22, 1892. Some time after this J. S. went to live with his son John Quincy at the nearby town of Long Lake. He died there October 22, 1904 and is buried beside his wife in the Long Lake cemetery.

John Stevens and Minerva Harrington had seven children, six of whom lived to become adults and marry. Their reference numbers in this pamphlet are 131 to 137.

14. DEBORAH HARRINGTON FULLER, fourth child of John and Rhoda (Kee) Harrington, was born in Greene, Trumbull County, Ohio, on March 14, 1818, and was the first white child born in this township. On December 24, 1840, she married ALVAH J. FULLER, a blacksmith. He died February 23, 1846 and is buried in the old south cemetery in Greene. He left Deborah with three small daughters, the oldest being less than five. Deborah and her children moved to Hutchinson, Minn. probably about 1857 when her parents went there. She died there on November 30, 1857, and her father died the same day.

The three daughters remained in Minnesota, married, and were, respectively, Jane Fuller Chowen, Sarah Fuller Whipple, and Adelia Fuller Hopper.

15. JOSHUA HARRINGTON, fifth child of John and Rhoda (Kee) Harrington, was born in Greene on February 7, 1820. He remained a resident of this township during his lifetime despite the exodus to Minnesota of his parents, three brothers, and only sister. He took over the farm of his father, which was part of Lot 7, in the northeast portion of the township. He died May 6, 1872 and is buried in the old south cemetery.

LAURA ANN BOOTH, wife of Joshua, was married to him on November 22, 1843. She was born December 5, 1825, in the Province of Ontario, the daughter of Peter Booth. She died April 25, 1883 at Greene and is buried beside her husband.

Joshua and Laura had two daughters and one son. Both daughters died while relatively young women, unmarried. The son is listed in this pamphlet under reference number 153.

16. GEORGE WASHINGTON HARRINGTON, sixth child of John and Rhoda (Kee) Harrington, was born at Greene June 30, 1822. He lived in this township as a farmer most of his life. He married, January 1, 1846, MARY JERAULD, who was born July 7, 1819. George W. died March 16, 1877; Mary died May 23, 1902. Both are buried in the new cemetery (Greenlawn) at Greene. Of four children only two survived childhood. See reference numbers 161 and 163.

17. LEWIS I. HARRINGTON, youngest child of John and Rhoda (Kee) Harrington, was born November 22, 1830, at Greene. He was brought up in this township and at age 21 was one of the teachers in the "select school" established by his cousin Charles A. Harrington. In the early 1850s he left Greene permanently and went to Minneapolis where, in 1855, he was County Surveyor of Hennipin County. In this same year the town of Hutchinson, McCleod County, was founded, and Lewis was employed to do the surveying of the site and to assist in the sale of lots. He settled there, built a home, and became one of the leading citizens. In 1862 he was a captain of volunteers in the defense of Hutchinson against the uprising of the Sioux Indians. His untimely death on August 14, 1884 resulted from a fall from a cliff while on a surveying mission along the Skagit River in northern Washington.

ELLEN MYRA PENDERGAST, wife of Lewis, was married to him December 27, 1857 at Hutchinson. She was a daughter of Solomon and Lydia (Wiggin) Pendergast and was born May 16, 1836 at Durham, N.H. She survived her husband by 31 years and died February 28, 1915, at Hutchinson. She is buried beside Lewis at the Hutchinson cemetery.

The two children of Lewis and Ellen are listed in this pamphlet under reference numbers 171 and 172.

26. JOHN HARRINGTON STEVENS, the sixth child of Gardner and Deborah Harrington Stevens, was born at Brompton, Province of Quebec, on June 13, 1820. In early manhood he went to Galena, Illinois, where he remained for several years; then in 1846 entered the army for service in the Mexican war. He ranked as captain in the Quartermaster's Department, and was actively engaged in various parts of Mexico's interior until May, 1848, when he was forced to resign his commission because of eye trouble.

He then decided to settle in Minnesota, where territory adjacent to Fort Snelling had been opened. On May 1, 1849, he filed a claim for land on the west bank of the Mississippi, just above the Falls of St. Anthony. Here he built a home, to which he brought his bride in 1850. Forty six years later this house was moved to Minnehaha Park, and is marked with this inscription:

STEVENS HOUSE

First Frame House Erected On The Site of Minneapolis West of the Mississippi River. Occupied by Col. John H. Stevens Aug. 6, 1850. Moved to This Park May 28, 1896.

Nearby in the park is a bronze statue marked:

COL. JOHN H. STEVENS

First Settler in the City of Minneapolis.

It was at this Stevens house in 1852 that Hennepin County was organized, and that the name "Minneapolis" was chosen for the rapidly growing village. Mr. Stevens was prominent in many enterprises, such as erection of a business block, incorporation of an Agricultural Society, development of 100 acres of his farm land into lots for building purposes, and securing of land for the University of Minnesota. He became a member of the Board of Regents of the University; a member of the school board; a member of the House and later of the Senate of the state legislature, and an officer of Hennepin County.

For about six years beginning in 1856 the Stevens family lived on a farm near Glencoe; then returned to Minneapolis. Mr. Stevens became interested in the state militia, and during the Sioux Indian uprising in 1862 he was in command of a long section of the frontier. He was proprietor and editor of a number of newspapers; and was author of the books "Personal Recollections of Minnesota and Its People" and "Early History of Minneapolis".

John H. Stevens' marriage to Frances Helen Miller occurred in Rockford, Illinois, May 10, 1850. Their first child, Mary Elizabeth, was the first white child born within the original limits of Minneapolis.

Mr. Stevens died in Minneapolis May 28, 1900, and is buried there, in Lakewood Cemetery.

FRANCES HELEN MILLER, wife of John H. Stevens, was the 3d child of Abner and Sally (Lyman) Miller, and was born March 29, 1822 at Westmoreland, Oneida County, N.Y. She had one brother and five sisters.

Immediately after her marriage she accompanied her husband to the little village of Minneapolis, where he had built their home. She died in Minneapolis May 15, 1902 and is buried there beside her husband and two of her daughters.

61. CHARLES ADAMS HARRINGTON, eldest child of William and Helena (Bascom) Harrington, was born June 16, 1824 at Greene, Trumbull County, Ohio. He has told that this event occurred "in a log house with only two rooms and a loft". At age 17 he attended Farmington Academy, about 15 miles from home; then spent a year at Grand River Institute in Austinburg, Ashtabula County; and finally, in early 1845, entered Oberlin Collegiate Institute which later became Oberlin College. He remained there for about two terms as a sophomore.

In the fall of 1846 he established a private or "select" school in Greene, which became very popular, there being at the time no public high school in the vicinity. It continued intermittently until 1859, with enrollments in some terms of nearly a hundred students. During this period Charles had assistant teachers and in some of the terms apparently did not participate himself.

Charles had begun studying law in 1846, in the office of John Crowell in Warren. He was admitted to the bar in 1848 and began rendering legal services to residents of Greene and vicinity. In 1860 he was elected Clerk of Common Pleas Court of the county, and served two 3-year terms beginning in February, 1861. This necessitated his moving to Warren, where he resided during the rest of his life. Early in 1867 he was appointed Assessor of Internal Revenue and continued in that office until it was abolished in May, 1873. For about ten years beginning in 1867 he was on the Warren Board of Education. About 1875 he became a partner in the law firm of Spear & Harrington. From April, 1877 through the year 1879 he was City Solicitor of Warren. In 1880 he was associated with others in organizing the Second National Bank, of which he was made cashier in 1887 and president in 1899. For a time he was a trustee of the Trumbull County children's home. Politically he was a Republican. He belonged to the Masonic order.

His marriage to his cousin Elvira Bascom occurred in Greene on April 8, 1847. Their two sons were born in Greene. The family built a home on land just south of William Harrington's farm. In Warren they owned a home on Washington Ave. just at the bend in the street; later one on Park Ave. opposite the end of Scott St. After Elvira's death, Charles married on Nov. 28, 1893, at Charleston, W. Va., Sophia Smith. She survived him. He died July 26, 1913, and is buried in Oakwood Cemetery at Warren.

ELVIRA BASCOM, first wife of Charles and mother of his children, was born Sept. 6, 1826 at Greene, the daughter of William Ashley and Altha (Crane) Bascom. Prior to her marriage she taught school at Amelia, Clermont County, near Cincinnati. At intervals during her married life she was very much handicapped by poor health. She died February 17, 1892, at the home on Park Ave. in Warren.

Elvira had two brothers and one sister:

Wales Bascom, b. Feb. 28, 1825; d. May 26, 1850, unmarried.

Alice Bascom, b. Mar. 27, 1828; d. Mar. 14, 1911, unmarried.

Reynolds R. Bascom, b. Mar. 6, 1833; m. Lucy Andrews; d. May 16, 1901.

SOPHIA SMITH, second wife of Charles, was born July 30, 1847 at Niles, Ohio, the daughter of Charles W. and Rachael (Park) Smith. At the conclusion of the Civil War the family moved to Charleston, West Virginia, and remained in that state until the father's death in 1878. Sophia returned to Ohio and lived at the home of her uncle, S. W. Park, at Warren, until her marriage. She survived her husband by 17 years and died July 28, 1930 at the home of her step-grandson in Shaker Heights.

Sophia had two younger sisters:

Ida M. Smith, b. Aug. 25, 1849; m. J. A. Kline; d. July 6, 1878.

Angie, married Alpheus Mahone.

Charles and Elvira had two sons, Charles Frederick and Frank Wales. Their reference numbers in this pamphlet are 611 and 612.

62. CORYDON HARRINGTON, second child of William and Helena (Bascom) Harrington, was born April 24, 1826 at Greene. As a young man he worked on his father's farm and taught school in nearby districts. On April 19, 1852 he married Elizabeth Swain and they settled on a farm which he had acquired about a half mile south of the center of Colebrook township in Ashtabula County. Here were born their three children. Elizabeth died in 1873 and about two years later Corydon married Alcinda Chaffee. Soon thereafter he gave up farming and moved to Painesville, Ohio, where they lived in a nice home at the north west corner of Mentor Avenue and Newell St. He died there November 2, 1894, after a prolonged illness and is buried in the cemetery just east of the city.

Corydon's obituary in the Painesville Telegraph of Nov. 7, 1894, referred to him as "one of Painesville's most respected citizens".

ELIZABETH SWAIN, first wife of Corydon and mother of his children, was born October 15, 1827 at Barnston, Canada. (This is presumably the Barnston in the province of Quebec which is near Coaticook and just north of the Vermont border). The family later moved to Conneaut, Ohio. She died January 16, 1873 and is buried in an unmarked grave, probably next to that of her son "Little Johnney", in the old cemetery at the western edge of William Harrington's farm.

ALCINDA CHAFFEE, second wife of Corydon, was born at Bristol, Trumbull County, O., in 1839. According to "The Chaffee Genealogy 1635-1909" she was the daughter of Henry Farnham Chaffee who was born in Becket, Mass. in 1802 and died at Bristol, Ohio, October 2, 1874. He was a school teacher and farmer. Alcinda's mother was Sally E. Gates who died in August, 1877 and is buried in Bristolville. Other children of Henry and Sally were Larinda, who married Mr. Finney; Almanza who died in the Civil War; and Justina C., who married Arthur E. Fenton.

Alcinda died January 8, 1904 at Painesville and is buried in the cemetery there beside Corydon.

Corydon and Elizabeth had a daughter Helen and a son William Thomas who became adults and are covered by sketches on following pages under the reference numbers 621 and 622. Another son, John, died in early childhood.

63. WILLIAM ASHLEY HARRINGTON, third child of William and Helena (Bascom) Harrington, was born July 2, 1829 at Greene. Like his older brothers, he worked on the farm and taught in some of the township schools not far from home. After his marriage in 1859, he left Greene and engaged in farming at Darbyville and at one or two other places in Pickaway County, south of Columbus, until 1870 or later. Then he removed to London, Ohio, and some years afterward to Lima. In 1881 his parents, who still lived on their farm in Greene but were no longer able to manage it, implored him to come back to them and take over the farm. This he did, remaining there for the remainder of their lives and of his.

William Ashley, generally known in Greene as Ashley or "Ash", married on March 6, 1859, at Hanover, N.H., Helen Ross. Her death occurred in Greene in 1883, and some seven years later he married Anna Rice Dillon, a widow. He died of heart failure on the farm June 4, 1893, and is buried in the new cemetery now known as "Greenlawn". He was an influential and much respected citizen of the town.

HELEN M. ROSS, first wife of Wm. Ashley Harrington and the mother of his children, was born March 15, 1836, the daughter of Isaac and Olive (Tenney) Ross. She died at Greene on December 29, 1883 and is buried there beside her husband.

ANNA RICE DILLON, second wife of Wm. A. Harrington was married to him October 30, 1890. She had been brought up by the parents of Jud Rice (a prominent storekeeper and postmaster in Greene) and took their name. Her first marriage was to Irwin Dillon, who died leaving her with two children, Ethel and Irwin. She survived Ashley Harrington and some time later married Mr. Lanterman.

Wm. Ashley and Helen (Ross) Harrington had four children but only the two older ones lived beyond infancy. Notes concerning them will be found under reference numbers 631 and 632.

64. FREDERICK HARRINGTON, fourth child of William and Helena (Bascom) Harrington, was born on his father's farm December 20, 1831, in Greene, Trumbull County, Ohio. At age 16 he left home and went to Buffalo, N.Y.; later to Albany and then to Brooklyn. On May 12, 1857 he married Hannah Truesdale and their first two children were born in Brooklyn in 1858 and 1859 respectively. During his residence in New York state Frederick was employed as an accountant with the firm of Charles Wright & Company, a large commercial house of those days.

After about 13 years Frederick returned to Ohio. At Canfield in Mahoning County, in 1862, his third child, the first to survive childhood was born. Soon after this Frederick and Hannah moved to a farm in Colebrook, Ashtabula County, where during the next four years three more children were born. About 1867 the family moved to Rock Creek and there he became a general merchant, having a store near the railway station. He is said to have been the first in this area to buy car load lots of corn and grain for sale to the dairymen. It was in Rock Creek that his last child was born, and there also that his wife Hannah died in 1880.

About the year 1890, having been elected county treasurer, he moved to Jefferson, the county seat. After his four year term as treasurer terminated, he continued to reside in Jefferson and became associated with the Jefferson Banking Company, the presidency of which he resigned in 1918. He died July 25, 1920 and is buried at Rock Creek. At that time the Jefferson Gazette said of him:

"He was a man of the highest character, unquestioned integrity, strong convictions and excellent judgement. He was honest, not because it was good policy, but because with him it was a matter of first intention and therefore he could not be otherwise. He was a generous, companionable man, and it naturally followed that the number of his friends was only limited by the number of those who knew him. Judged from any stand, his life was well lived, well founded, useful, active and eventful; and an inspiration for those who follow."

HANNAH OLIVE TRUESDALE, wife of Frederick, was born October 8, 1835, the daughter of James and Orpha (Parker) Truesdale of Canfield, Ohio. She died July 15, 1880 and is buried at Rock Creek.

Of the seven children born to Frederick and Hannah, five (two daughters and three sons) lived to become adults. Their reference numbers in this pamphlet are 643 to 647 inclusive.

65. ERMINA HARRINGTON ASHLEY, fifth child and only daughter of William and Helena (Bascom) Harrington, was born March 1, 1833 at Greene. She attended the "select school" taught by her brother Charles in Greene, and for a time was a student at Oberlin College. She taught music. On January 1, 1857 she married Joseph B. Ashley. For thirty one years thereafter they were engaged in farming, a part of the time in Greene with Ermina's parents, and the rest of the time in the adjoining township to the north, Colebrook. Six children - five girls and one boy - were born and brought up. In 1888, when two of the girls had been married and another was ready to be, Ermina with the three other children moved to Oberlin, Ohio. Joseph Ashley followed in a few months, after disposing of the farm. Misfortune struck almost immediately. The son, Fred, entered Oberlin College but was soon thereafter injured in college athletics and died a few days later. Joseph Ashley was stricken with arthritis and became unable to work. The family took in boarders as a means of support.

A year or so after her husband's death in 1904, Ermina sold the home in Oberlin and moved to Findlay, O., where she could live next door to her eldest daughter Nellie (Mrs. Newton E. Bacon). She died in Findlay December 8, 1915, and is buried in the Oberlin cemetery.

JOSEPH B. ASHLEY, as reported in "Ashley Genealogy" by Marjorie L. Cherry, was born about 1831 on a farm in Steuben (near Norwalk), Huron County, O. His father was Leonard Ashley, and his grandfather was James Ashley, who had served in the American revolution. His mother was Sally McDougall, born in Nova Scotia. Leonard and Sally had 12 children, two of whom became "Free Will" Baptist ministers.

Prior to his marriage, Joseph had worked as a contractor in Cleveland. After his marriage he took up farming in Greene and Colebrook townships. The Roster of Ohio Soldiers shows that he had service in the Civil War from August, 1862 to June, 1865, as a musician in Company I, 105th Regiment, Ohio Voluntary Infantry. During the last 15 years of his life, most of which time he resided in Oberlin, he was an invalid. He died February 9, 1904 at Cambridge Springs, Pa., but is buried at Oberlin, O.

81. GARDNER S. HARRINGTON, eldest child of Ziba and Charlotte (Bascom) Harrington, was born February 20, 1828 at Greene, Trumbull County, Ohio. He became a carpenter, later entering the furniture business at Vassar, Michigan. He married, May 1, 1851, ANN KING. They had no children. He died in August, 1875.

82. LINUS A. HARRINGTON, second child of Ziba and Charlotte (Bascom) Harrington, was born August 31, 1829, at Greene. When about 23 years of age he started for San Francisco, going by ship around Cape Horn. Soon after his arrival he was afflicted with typhoid fever and died there January 8, 1853, unmarried. His parents in Ohio did not learn of his death for a number of years, and then only by chance.

83. CHARLOTTE ROSAMOND HARRINGTON NASH, third child of Ziba and Charlotte (Bascom) Harrington, was born at Greene May 30, 1831. Her education included terms at Austinburg, Hiram and Oberlin. When about twenty years of age she moved with her parents to Troy, in Geauga County. For ten years, including the Civil War period, she taught school, mostly in southern Ohio.

She was married, on January 29, 1870, to Edwin C. Nash, a native of Troy who had gone to Kansas a year before. The marriage took place at Topeka, and they went immediately to a farm near Douglass in that state. Here their two children were born. In 1874 the family returned to the Nash farm in Troy, O. and remained there for seven years; then back to Douglass to stay until 1900. The final years of their lives were spent at the ancestral Nash home in Troy, except that Charlotte lived for a brief period in East Cleveland. She died August 15, 1909, having survived her husband by almost four years; and is buried beside him in the Troy cemetery.

EDWIN CHESTER NASH, son of Chester and Caroline (Kingsbury) Nash, was born February 15, 1834, at Troy, Geauga County. He was raised on a farm and was a farmer throughout his life. As a bachelor at age 35 he established himself on a 160 acre claim north of the small town of Douglass, Kansas, on the Little Walnut River. Had it not been for strong parental ties back in Ohio, it is probable that the family residence would have been permanently maintained in Kansas. As it turned out, both he and his wife returned to Ohio, where he died September 1, 1905 in the township of his birth.

The two children of this marriage are listed herein under reference numbers 831 and 832.

84. HENRY ADDISON HARRINGTON, (Addison), fourth child of Ziba and Charlotte (Bascom) Harrington, was born June 16, 1833, at Greene. He served for four years in the Union Army, first as a bugler, later as a color bearer. On March 30, 1869, he married ANN HARTLEY. In the 1880s they moved to Kansas, buying a 40 acre farm northwest of Douglass and near the home of his sister Charlotte Nash and her husband. Sometime prior to 1901 they moved from the farm into the village of Douglass. Ann died about 1915. A year or so later Addison married Ada _____, a widow. She died sometime after 1918. Addison, while travelling through Great Bend, Kansas, was injured by an automobile and was taken to the Old Soldiers Home at Leavenworth, where he died soon thereafter, at the age of 92 years. He is buried in the soldier's cemetery there.

Addison and Ann had one adopted daughter, May. At age 19 she was married to Leonard Wise, and moved to Idaho. She died while still quite young, leaving a daughter Fern Wise.

85. CAROLINE ELIZABETH HARRINGTON BARROWS, fifth child of Ziba and Charlotte (Bascom) Harrington, was born at Greene September 27, 1835. Her name appears on the roll of students in the "select school" of her cousin Charles A. Harrington, in Greene. She moved, with her parents, to Troy township, Geauga County, O., in 1852. Here she met, and married on January 1, 1857, Leonard Perkins Barrows. They lived in Troy until 1880, then moved to Chardon, O. She survived her husband for many years and at the time of her death, July 16, 1930, had been living at the home of her youngest son, Fred, near Chardon. She is buried beside her husband in the Chardon cemetery.

LEONARD PERKINS BARROWS was born May 12, 1833, at Troy, the son of Spencer and Olive Barrows. He was preparing to become a lawyer when his education in this field was interrupted by the Civil War. He enlisted in the Ninth Ohio Battery and in that group served at different times as corporal, sergeant, and lieutenant. A post of the G.A.R., organized in 1871, elected him as its first commander. He was admitted to the bar August 21, 1868. In 1880 he moved to Chardon and in 1884 was elected Prosecuting Attorney of Geauga County, serving for two terms. He continued the practice of law in Chardon until his health failed. He was an Odd Fellow and a Mason; politically, a Republican. He died December 28, 1902.

L.P. and Caroline Barrows had four sons, listed herein under reference numbers 851 to 854 inclusive.

86. JOHN NEWTON HARRINGTON, sixth child of Ziba and Charlotte (Bascom) Harrington, was born at Greene July 25, 1837. He served in the Civil War as a lieutenant in Company F, 128th Regiment of Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and while in the army was sent to Lima, O. After the war he spent about three years in the lumber and furniture business at Vassar, Michigan, with his older brother Gardiner; then returned to Lima and married Miss HATTIE L. MUSSER, daughter of Daniel Musser. He took his bride to Jefferson, Iowa, where he engaged in mercantile business until July, 1872. He then returned to Lima and became associated with the Lima Paper Mill, in which organization he held various positions of trust from bookkeeper to vice president. He died September 20, 1883. An obituary in a Lima newspaper said of him that "the community at large loses a man whose business excellence, amiable social qualities and loyal friendship have endeared him to a large circle of devoted friends".

John N. and Hattie Harrington had four children, only one of whom survived childhood. This daughter, Belle, was a beautiful and accomplished young woman, who died soon after her parents. All are buried at Lima.

87. GEORGE N. HARRINGTON, seventh child of Ziba and Charlotte (Bascom) Harrington, was born February 22, 1840, at Greene. He went with his parents to live at Troy township, Geauga County, in the early 1850s; and it was from Troy that he enlisted for civil war service. While in the army he was taken sick, and died of typhoid fever at St. Louis, May 13, 1862. He was not married.

89. EMILY A. HARRINGTON EMMONS, ninth child of Ziba and Charlotte (Bascom) Harrington, was born October 16, 1843, at Greene. She moved with her parents to Troy and there on March 21, 1878, married Almeron A. Emmons, who had come from Connecticut two years before. In the spring of 1884 they moved to Douglass, Kansas, where they engaged in farming for ten years on one place, two years on another. They had moved to Rock, Kansas, less than a year before Mr. Emmons' death on January 26, 1898. His widow survived him for many years and died while a resident of the Eliza Jennings Home at Cleveland, O., January 23, 1921.

ALMERON A. EMMONS was born May 5, 1842 at East Hartland, Connecticut and came to Geauga County, Ohio, in 1876. The obituary published in a Kansas newspaper says of him: "He was one of the most honest, industrious and conscientious men this community has ever known".

Almeron and Emily Emmons had one adopted daughter.

8X. HARRIET E. HARRINGTON GODFREY, OBER, youngest child of Ziba and Charlotte (Bascom) Harrington, was born January 31, 1847 at Greene. As a small child she moved with her parents to Troy township in Geauga County. Here she received her education, and taught school for a short time. On September 16, 1869, she married, at Cleveland, JAMES D. GODFREY. They lived on a farm in Auburn township until about 1892, then moved to the village of Chagrin Falls and operated the Irving Hotel, an imposing edifice on the public square. A few years later the hotel was destroyed by fire. The Godfreys continued living in Chagrin Falls for a time, then resided in Cleveland for a few years. They finally went back to Bentleyville, which adjoins Chagrin Falls. Here James Godfrey died in 1910.

In 1916 Harriet married CHARLES H. OBER, a widower, proprietor of a variety store at Chagrin Falls. After his death which occurred a few years later, she continued living in Chagrin Falls and died there in February, 1936. She is buried beside her first husband at Troy.

The father remarried in 1843 and Wm. Henry was then brought up by his stepmother, Sarah Cowles Harrington. He was usually called by his middle name Henry.

In 1852 the family moved to Minnesota and settled on a farm near Lake Minnetonka. Henry was educated for the ministry at St. Lawrence University at Canton, N.Y. called upon to take charge of the Hutchinson High School, due to illness of the principal. This she did successfully and continued to teach in the school for two years. On June 30, 1886 she was married to this principal, who was Harry L. Merrill. Their home became one of the centers of the community's cultural and social affairs. 1940. Grace continued to live in Niagara Falls for a number of years, then in 1945 took up residence in Fort Wayne, Ind., where her nephew Louis Bacon and his family lived. Her death occurred at a state hospital at Logansport, Ind. on November 11, 1955.

Grace had no children.

831. CHESTER NASH, eldest child of Edwin C. and Charlotte (Harrington) Nash, was born February 12, 1871 at Douglass, Kansas. In 1890 he graduated from the two year high school of that village. Some of his primary schooling had been received at Troy, Geauga County, Ohio, where he had been with his parents during seven years of his childhood. After high school, he taught school for a time, then attended Oberlin College for two years. Back in Kansas he married at Rock, near Douglass, about the year 1896, Margaret Clarke. They started their married career on farms near Douglass. From 1902 to 1904 they were at the Nash home in Troy, O., assisting there because of the poor health of Chester's father. They returned to their farm near Douglass, but within a few years moved to Guymon in Oklahoma, where Chester managed the Big Jo Lumber Co. He had a ranch in this area. Later Chester and his boys operated a large grocery store. He became one of Guymon's leading citizens and his death, in February, 1948, caused great sorrow. He is buried at Guymon.

MARGARET CLARKE, daughter of William H. Clarke, was born September 11, 1874 at Washington Court House, Ohio. Her parents moved to Kansas during the 1890s and bought a large farm near Rock. But the deaths of three of their children there and a ruinous cyclone caused them to give up this farm and live elsewhere.

Margaret died about the year 1954 after a lingering illness. She is buried at Guymon.

There are four children of this marriage: Mildred (Mrs. Fred Daily), Edwin Nash, Orville Nash and Howard Nash.

832. HARRIET NASH EDIC ADAMSON, (Hattie), second child of Edwin C. and Charlotte (Harrington) Nash, was born September 30, 1873, at Douglass, Kansas. Very soon thereafter, her parents went back to Troy township, Geauga County, Ohio, which had been home to each of them prior to their marriage. They remained there for seven years before returning to Douglass. Hattie thus had her first two years of primary schooling in Troy. She continued her education in the public schools of Douglass, and graduated from the two year high school of that village in 1891. This was followed by one year of instruction at the State Normal School at Emporia; then by seven years of school teaching in Douglass and other Kansas towns.

In 1899 Hattie left Douglass, went to Ohio where she had many relatives and friends, and taught school there for five years, of which three were at Bainbridge and two at Troy. On December 24, 1904 she married IRVING EDIC. At first they lived with Irving's mother at Russell township; but within a year, Hattie's father having died, they moved to the Nash farm in Troy. Here they remained as long as Irving lived. Irving operated the farm and had a large dairy. Their three children were born on this farm. In 1918 Hattie resumed teaching, while still doing her part in raising the children and attending to the farm household. Between 1918 and 1932 she taught seven years in Troy and six years in the neighboring village of Hiram Rapids. This made for her a lifetime teaching career of 26 years.

Irving Edic died in 1934. On June 4, 1936 Hattie was remarried, this time to an old friend whom she had known in Douglass. He was JULIUS E. ADAMSON, now a widower residing in El Dorado, Kansas. Hattie went there to live, and remained until after Mr. Adamson's death, which occurred in November, 1946. She then returned to Ohio and apportioned her time among her three children, although residing principally with her daughter Marjorie and family, near Butler, Pa. She died at a Butler hospital February 10, 1961. Burial was at Garrettsville, O.

It is noteworthy that after her eightieth birthday, Hattie had written, for the benefit of her children and grandchildren, a most interesting volume of 250 pages containing the story of her life.

IRVING EDIC, son of Brenton and Rebecca (Robinson) Edic, was born September 15, 1874 in Russell township, Geauga County. At the time of his marriage he was employed in a machine shop at Chagrin Falls, but soon thereafter took up operation of the Nash farm in Troy. He died in a Cleveland hospital on January 30, 1934, after a very brief illness, and is buried in Garrettsville, O.

Two daughters and one son have reference numbers herein as 8321 to 8323 inclusive.

852. WILLIAM GRANT BARROWS, second child of Leonard Perkins and Caroline (Harrington) Barrows, was born September 21, 1863 in Troy township, Geauga County, O. His parents moved to Chardon while he was in his teens and he attended Chardon High School. He then enrolled in Allegheny College at Meadville, Pa. and preached while a student there. But he decided to take up law rather than the ministry, and was admitted to the bar of Ohio about the year 1892. He practised law for a few years, then joined the Cleveland police department. The author discusses the various theories of the origin of life, and shows that the most plausible one is the theory of spontaneous generation.

The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed discussion of the theory of spontaneous generation. It is shown that this theory is based on the assumption that life is a necessary result of the combination of certain chemical elements. The author discusses the various experiments which have been conducted to test this theory, and shows that the results are inconclusive.

The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the theory of evolution. It is shown that this theory is based on the assumption that life is a result of a gradual process of change. The author discusses the various theories of evolution, and shows that the most plausible one is the theory of natural selection.

The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the theory of the origin of man. It is shown that this theory is based on the assumption that man is a result of a gradual process of change from an ape-like ancestor. The author discusses the various theories of the origin of man, and shows that the most plausible one is the theory of evolution.

The fifth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the theory of the origin of the universe. It is shown that this theory is based on the assumption that the universe is a result of a gradual process of change from a state of chaos. The author discusses the various theories of the origin of the universe, and shows that the most plausible one is the theory of the big bang.

The sixth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the theory of the origin of life on other planets. It is shown that this theory is based on the assumption that life is a necessary result of the combination of certain chemical elements. The author discusses the various theories of the origin of life on other planets, and shows that the most plausible one is the theory of spontaneous generation.

The seventh part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the theory of the origin of the human race. The author discusses the various theories of the origin of the human race, and shows that the most plausible one is the theory of evolution.

The eighth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the theory of the origin of the universe. In early manhood he went to Grand Rapids, Michigan and worked for the American Seating Co., in whose employ he continued for 20 years. About the year 1925, at the request of his parents, he returned to Colebrook to help his brother John manage the farm. His father at that time was in failing health. He remained on the farm until it was given up in 1946, then moved to Ashtabula, where he died December 19, 1948.

Corydon's first marriage, to a Grand Rapids resident, ended in divorce. About 1912 he married LENA F. RUSSELL of Grand Rapids, a widow, born July 18, 1887. She came with him to Colebrook in 1925. She survived him and, as of 1960, still resides in Ashtabula.

6215. JAMES D. ANDERSON, fifth child of Ellis and Helen (Harrington) Anderson, was born February 22, 1884 at Colebrook. He married, on November 28, 1912, MARY CASTLE, who was then a resident of New Lyme. They lived for a time near Unionville, then in 1914 moved to Ashtabula. Here James worked successively for the Bow Socket Co., the American Fork & Hoe Co., and the Ashtabula Hide & Leather Co.

MARY CASTLE ("Marie"), was born October 11, 1886 at Brecksville, Cuyahoga County; a daughter of Charles D. and Eliza (Wanger) Castle. The family later lived in Orange township. Marie attended New Lyme Institute, graduating there in 1907. She is currently president of the alumni association of this institute. She survived her husband and continues to live in Ashtabula.

Children of this marriage were: Charles, who died at age 18; Alfred, now living in Ashtabula; Helen (Mrs. Robt. Miller) of Kingsville; Jean Marie (Mrs. Karl Anderson); and Grace Irene (Mrs. R. W. Bloom) of Ashtabula Harbor.

In the fall of that year she entered the Oberlin Conservatory, where she spent a year and a half in the study of music.

For several years prior to her death, Ethel's mother was in poor health, and Ethel took over the housekeeping for the family. After the death of her parents, she was employed in the New Castle public library. She retired from this work in 1957, and is currently residing in the Almira Home. She is unmarried.

6222. EMMA LENORE HARRINGTON CHAIN, the younger daughter of William T. and Emma (Means) Harrington, was born January 24, 1891, at Rock Creek. She moved with her parents to New Castle in 1896. She graduated from New Castle high school in 1909.

Lenore married, on September 25, 1913, at New Castle, CLAIRE W. CHAIN, a steel plant worker. She died January 3, 1947. Mr. Chain subsequently remarried.

6311. EDWARD A. HARRINGTON ("Ned"), eldest child of Ross and Belle (Case) Harrington, was born November 10, 1889, at Bowling Green, O. His interest at this time was in agriculture and dairy cattle, and to prepare himself in this field he took special courses at Ohio State and Cornell universities. His first employment was with the publishers of "Holstein Friesian World" at Lacona, N.Y., then at Madison, Wisconsin, where he became co-editor of the western edition of this journal.

During the first world war he was in the army for a year and was about to be sent overseas when the armistice was declared. The following year was spent as manager of a farm in Michigan; then ensued a short period of work in Chicago for the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.

In 1920 Ned undertook a radically different project: the management and eventual ownership of Shurhit Products, Inc., a company which, at Waukegan, Ill., manufactures automotive electrical equipment. He is still the president of the company, although now living at Santa Barbara, California.

Ned married, in March of 1921, at Chicago, Mrs. HALLIE (HEVERAN) GOODING, a widow. She had one son, Robert Gooding, whom Ned adopted. Hallie died August 31, 1948. In December of 1949 Ned married HELEN M. BALL of Highland Park, Ill.

His college career was interrupted at the end of two years by World War I. He enlisted in the Marine Corps and was stationed at St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands.

When out of service he entered Miami University at Oxford, O. and graduated in 1920. He then took law courses at University of Chicago and Ohio State University, and was admitted to the bar of Ohio. At Toledo, he started his legal career with the firm of Tracy, Chapman & Welles, of which he was soon made a partner. Later he became a senior member of the law firm Fuller, Harrington, Seney & Henry. He was a director or officer of many corporations. His fraternal memberships included Delta Kappa Epsilon and Lions Club. He was President of Goodwill Industries of Toledo.

Frank owned, at various times, a number of fine farms in Wood County, and enjoyed their management as an avocation. In his later years he took to raising horses and racing them. An altruistic project of his was the equipping of 40 acres of his land near Toledo for the use of the younger members of his law firm, and their families. Gardening, recreational, canning and freezing facilities were provided.

He was in active service at the front for two months just prior to the armistice. As a motorcycle orderly he received a citation for bravery and devotion to duty under heavy fire. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the origin of life. It is shown that the problem is one of the most important and interesting in the history of science. The author discusses the various theories of the origin of life, and shows that the most probable one is the theory of spontaneous generation. This theory states that life originated from non-living matter, and that it has since developed into the various forms of life that we see today. The author also discusses the evidence for this theory, and shows that it is supported by a large amount of scientific data.

The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed discussion of the theory of spontaneous generation. It is shown that this theory is based on the fact that certain organic compounds can be synthesized from inorganic materials. The author discusses the various experiments that have been conducted to test this theory, and shows that they all support it. He also discusses the various objections to the theory, and shows that they are all unfounded.

The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence for the theory of spontaneous generation. It is shown that there is a large amount of scientific data in support of this theory. This data includes the results of various experiments, the discovery of certain organic compounds in inorganic materials, and the fact that life is found in all parts of the world. The author also discusses the various objections to the theory, and shows that they are all unfounded.

The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the implications of the theory of spontaneous generation. It is shown that this theory has important implications for our understanding of the origin of life. It shows that life is not a rare phenomenon, but that it is a natural result of the laws of chemistry and physics. This has important implications for our understanding of the universe as a whole.

The fifth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the history of the theory of spontaneous generation. It is shown that this theory has a long history, and that it has been the subject of much controversy. The author discusses the various theories of the origin of life, and shows that the theory of spontaneous generation is the most probable one. He also discusses the various experiments that have been conducted to test this theory, and shows that they all support it.

The sixth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the future of the theory of spontaneous generation. It is shown that this theory is still a subject of much interest, and that there is still much to be learned about it. The author discusses the various experiments that are being conducted to test this theory, and shows that they are all supporting it. He also discusses the various implications of this theory, and shows that they are all important.

6534. MARIAN F. AXTELL LATHERO, fourth child of Lucien and Josephine (Ashley) Axtell, was born July 19, 1904. She attended the Andrews School (for girls) at Willoughby, O. and College of Wooster, though not staying to graduate from the latter. She taught school for two years, then was employed in the office of her brother Silas Blake Axtell in New York.

On March 4, 1938, she married JAMES P. LATHERO, an attorney of Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Note: The "Axtell Genealogy" by Carson A. Axtell, published in 1945, is the source of much of the information shown above for the descendants of Josephine (Ashley) Axtell.

8321. MARJORIE EDIC HULL, eldest child of Irving and Hattie (Nash) Edic, was born December 28, 1905 at Troy. After attending the public schools at Troy, she took her final year of high school at Chagrin Falls, graduating in 1924. She was at Oberlin College during the academic year 1924-1925. Then she taught school in the primary grades at Troy.

Marjorie married, on June 16, 1926, at Troy, STUART HULL. They began housekeeping in Warren, O. where they lived for nearly a year; then moved to an apartment in East Cleveland. It was here that their son Richard was born, also a second son who died soon after birth. About the year 1931 the family moved to Butler, Pa. and in this vicinity they have lived ever since. Here their third child, Charlotte, was born.

STUART HULL, husband of Marjorie, was born September 11, 1902, the son of Barton O. and Edna (Bancroft) Hull. The Hull family resided, at different times, in Nelson township, Portage County, and in Troy township and Burton village, Geauga County. It was in Troy and Burton that Stuart attended high school. Soon thereafter he became associated with the paving industry, and at Butler, Pa. established his own contracting company, now known as the Hull Resurfacing Company.

8322. KATHERYN EDIC HULL, second child of Irving and Hattie (Nash) Edic, was born August 21, 1907, at Troy. After attending the Troy schools through all the years of instruction then available, she finished high school at Chagrin Falls, graduating there in 1925. She then took two years of college work at Cedar Falls, Iowa, living with relatives. This was followed by two years of school teaching in Iowa.

Back in Troy, Katheryn married, on August 20, 1929, ROLLAND HULL, brother of her sister Marjorie's husband, Stuart Hull. But only six months later Rolland died as the result of an automobile accident. Three months afterward, their son Rolland was born.

Beginning in the fall of 1931, Katheryn started teaching grade school in Burton, O., living there at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hull. She has continued in this work at the same place ever since.

8323. EDWIN BRENTON EDIC, ("Brenton"), third child and only son of Irving and Hattie (Nash) Edic, was born September 8, 1911 at Troy. He graduated from Troy High School in 1929 and spent the school year 1930-31 as a freshman at Hiram College. He returned the following fall but was obliged to leave because of an injury. After the death of his father in 1934, he took over the operation of the farm. Three years later Stuart Hull bought the farm and hired a man to run it for him; Brenton then went to Butler, Pa. and worked for Stuart's firm, the "Hull Resurfacing Company". On July 3, 1941, he married DOROTHY WALKER, whose home was at Meridian, a village near Butler. The second world war broke out and in 1943 Brenton was drafted. After training for infantry service at Fort Meade and Camp Walters, he was sent to the Philippines, where, in the ordnance division, he guarded, worked on, and drove army trucks. After the conclusion of the war, Brenton and family lived for a time at the farm in Troy, then moved to Bainbridge township. They are currently living there in a nice new home. Brenton is employed by Standard Oil Co. of Ohio.

Their children are Brenton, Gaylord, Suzanne, Dianne, Kenneth and Barrie.

Appendix 1. The 1000 Genomes Project

This appendix provides a detailed overview of the 1000 Genomes Project, a large-scale international effort to create a comprehensive reference of human genetic variation. The project aims to identify and catalog common and rare genetic variants across diverse populations, providing a valuable resource for researchers in genetics, genomics, and related fields. The data generated by the project is publicly available, facilitating global collaboration and discovery.
